Meet your friendly neighborhood Atheist!

On Thursday, July 1, 2005, the Freethought Society of Greater Philadelphia (FSGP) will host a booth at the Chester County Swinging Summer Thursdays.

The event takes place on Gay Street in downtown West Chester. FSGP's booth will be located at space number 103 on block four (between Walnut and Matlack Streets). The event hours are 6:30 PM to 9:30 PM.

The FSGP booth will be staffed by volunteers wearing a T-shirt with the slogan, "Hi. I'm your friendly neighborhood Atheist." FSGP volunteers will be distributing complementary information about FSGP's community work and outreach programs.

Two large posters will display the names of famous Atheists so that passersby will know there are more Atheists in America than they realize. Warren Allen Smith's books, Who's Who in Hell and Celebrities in Hell will be available. Those who are curious or skeptical can research original quotations from these famous Atheists.

Booth visitors can register to win prizes. A giant stuffed dog (Godfree, the FSGP mascot) will be given away at 9:00 PM.

Free newsletters will also be available and a photo history of FSGP will be on display.
